

LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

The e-International Review on Social Protection is a non-profit project promoted by the Faculty of Law of the University of Seville.

This electronic journal has three fundamental objectives:

- 1) Increase research and knowledge on legislation and jurisprudence about social protection at a national, European and international level.
- 2) Training and dissemination of information in an area of knowledge where the number of specialized researchers is not very large and where access to up-to-date literature is a complex matter.
- 3) Creation of synergies between researchers all over the world to share knowledge and promote new projects.

The e-International Review on Social Protection has been created with the aim of providing researchers and professionals in Law in the international community with a free dissemination resource where papers with the highest scientific quality and rigor can be found. These are focused on the increasingly complex application of Law on Social Security and Social Assistance in a globalized world.

For this reason, the priority lines of work of the editorial team are the coordination of the Social Security systems in the European Union, as well as the coordination of Social Security systems via the Multilateral Latin American Agreement on Social Security.

Along with all this, there is also room for the provision of information on the evolution and reforms of the national systems of social protection, paying special attention to the existing obstacles to the free movement of workers and citizens and the exportation of social benefits.